

Stratus Technology Services (STS) announces the expansion of its services into operations solutions for the financial services industry

SHREWSBURY, NJ; July 11, 2011 – Stratus Technology Services LLC (STS), a leading provider of innovative information technology staffing and services since 2001, announced the acquisition and launch of Stratus Strategic Operations Solutions, a new business vertical offering business process and human capital solutions for operations disciplines within specific financial services industry sectors. STS concurrently announced new senior leadership roles within its organization to lead the new vertical by naming Michael Nicolette and John Cielazewicz as Managing Principals. Both executives are 25+ year professionals within the financial services industry, and will report to Jamie Raymond, CEO and President of STS.

Stratus Strategic Operations Solutions (SOS) provides highly customized consulting and human capital management solutions in response to financial services operations executives' needs within the banking, wealth management, employee benefits, and insurance sectors. SOS is positioned to rapidly respond to the ever-increasing complexities faced by operations executives brought on by the pace of automation, regulatory changes, growth opportunities, cost pressures, client demands, and competition.

CEO Jamie Raymond commented on the launch of Stratus SOS:

“Given the fact that operations initiatives often define and drive technology projects, the complementary nature of offering operations services in conjunction with Stratus” core technology offerings presents an opportunity to provide a comprehensive suite of solutions to our clients, and significant growth for Stratus.”

About Stratus

Stratus Technology Services, LLC (STS) is a provider of innovative Information Technology services and solutions that are completely focused on client success. At STS it is our uncompromising commitment to extraordinary people implementing defined and proven processes for the delivery of the right solution for our client critical business needs every time.

STS' model of service excellence has provided for timely, cost effective and accurate solutions for large and small clients on a nationwide basis since 2001. At STS we are a leader in the new economy which demands strategic partners who are agile, focused and completely engaged. STS provides three core solution sets Staffing Solutions, Project Solutions and Managed Solutions.

Its home page is www.stratustech.com.

